Goals For China Unit

Be aware and appreciate other cultures.

Appreciate ethnicity.

Respect other cultures.

See the similarities between the United States and China.

Recognize the geography of China.

Appreciate diversity within other nations.

Study different world culture focusing on values, beliefs, and traditions.

Draw maps and diagrams that will represent places and physical features.

Understand what tangrams are and how they serve as a form of entertainment for the Chinese.

Understand the parts and format to write a basic friendly letter.

Have students become familiar with Pandas and how they become endangered.

Practice writing skills in journal format to help write and read for meaning.

Know factual details about China such as its size, population, location, geographic features and important cities.

Students will be familiar with elements of Chinese Culture such as language, traditional and modern dress, music, art, and food.

Be familiar with family and community life in China including family structures, tradition of respecting elders, and family celebrations.