Philosophy of Education

Education is an endless journey. Educators have the ability to guide students on that journey. Most of us, that are educators, have a true love for learning. We realize that we are not only teachers but often students. Every day, I try to learn something new and it is never a hard goal to reach. I want to share this with my students and help them realize that learning is an endless process.

Through research, we have learned that the more we can make the subjects relevant to the students—the more they will learn and retain the information in their long term memory. We have learned that people learn differently. I think we need to share this with the students more. I believe they need to know that people learn differently and we should help them figure out what works best for them. We also need to make sure we are meeting their needs through our teaching.

I also think it is very important to remember what it is like to be the student. Students need to know that you are human, that you make mistakes, that you are still learning, and that teachers do not know everything but WANT TO!!!
